CUSTOM WORKING ENVIRONMENT TRAINING

Custom Working Environment Course

Build a working environment course around your organisation's risks, roles and priorities.

Overview

A custom course is suitable when a standard course does not cover the organisation's situation in enough detail. We help define the brief, target group and required outcomes before shaping the course proposal. Relevant procedures, examples and internal material can be included once the scope and responsibilities have been agreed.

What participants learn

- Address the working environment topics most relevant to the organisation
- Connect requirements with actual roles and work situations
- Use relevant procedures, examples and internal material
- Agree practical actions that support the intended outcome

Organisational value

- Training focused on actual risks and responsibilities
- Greater relevance for the selected participant group
- Clear links between learning and workplace practice
- A flexible format aligned with organisational priorities

Practical information

TARGET GROUP Employers, AMO teams, managers and project organisations that need tailored working environment training.	DURATION Defined in the course proposal after the scope has been clarified.
PREREQUISITES A named customer representative, defined target group, clear business need and relevant internal material.	FORMAT Tailored course, workshop or modular learning programme.
LANGUAGES Agreed as part of the course proposal.	DELIVERY At the workplace, at an agreed venue or online, depending on the content and participant group.

Discuss a custom working environment course

Contact Solvexis to discuss the risks, roles, participant group, learning objectives and relevant internal material.
info@solvexit.dk | +45 53 59 51 60